

PRODUCTIVITY REPORT

PLEASE DO NOT SIGN YOUR NAME OR PROVIDE ANY IDENTIFYING INFORMATION ON THIS PRODUCTIVITY REPORT.

Revisit your workbook and cross out any words in your workbook that are invalid.

Again, the rules for determining whether a word is 'valid' are:

Each word must be at least two letters long.

No proper nouns (e.g., Larry, Mexico, Boston Red Sox).

Use each of the 7 letters only once per word.

Words can only be used in one form (e.g., "task" or "tasks"; not "task" and "tasks").

Please cross out any words you created that are invalid (i.e., break the rules).

You may use the online scrabble dictionary available on the computer in front of you.

PRODUCTIVITY REPORT

The purpose of this worksheet is for you to report your productivity relative to a specific number of words. Please do the following:

Below, place an X into the box indicating whether or not you created the target number of words. For example, if you created 8 words for the first anagram, then you place an "X" into the box "Created 8 or fewer words".

Report continued on the next page.

Please complete these two final questions about your participation in this study:

Please read the four options below. Then, select the one option that best describes your approach to the anagram task. In each round of the anagram task...

In your honest opinion, should we use your data from this study? You will receive your compensation regardless of how you answer.

My goal was to "do my best".

My goal was to create a specific number of words. I was told that "in previous studies, many students were able to create this number of words".

My goal was to create a specific number of words. I was told that I would earn money for each round in which I met the goal.

My goal was to create a specific number of words. I was not told anything about students in previous studies nor about receiving money for each round in which I met the goal.
